Field Marshal French Says He Will Shatter the. German Lines.

ONDON, Eng. April 13 -- After re-Gen. von Hindenburg, command land, suddenly resumed the offensive the British government resurds officers and crews of German submarines not as shonorable enumies and accordingly treats them, not as other prisoners of war, but as ordinary prisoners of war men in the discharge of their military duties and therefore they are fully catilled to be treated as other prisoners of war as international agreements. The German government therefore enters the strongest protest against a measure which is contrary to international law and see itself at the same time regretfully compelled immediately, to exceute reprisals amounced by it, and subject to similar harsh treatment a corresponding number of English officers who have been provisionally placed under officers' arrest will depend upon the treatment of the German prisoners.
